A TRAINLOAD OF DEPORTED MINERS.

Were Dumped Down on the Plains of Kansas and Told to Hike To the East.

TROOPS THEN FIRED A VOLLEY

The Men, Practically Destitute, Were Left to Make Their Way as Best They Could.

GOV. BAILEY OF KANSAS TALKS.

If They Come to Kansas as Peaceful and Law-Abiding Citizens Looking For Work, They Will Be Welcome.

Denver, Colo., June 11.—A special to the Post from Holy, Colo., says:

With a partying volley of rifle bullets fired over their heads by the militia and deputies to warn them to "hike" eastward as fast as their legs could carry them, and never again set foot on Colorado soil, 91 union miners from the Cripple Creek district were unloaded from a special Santa Fe train on the prairie this morning, one half mile from the Colorado-Kansas state line, and left to shift for themselves. The exiles were disembarked in haste and without ceremony. The guards and deputies were fired out and in ill humor from their long, tedious trip from the Teller county gold camp, and were in no mood to extend any special courtesies or kindness to their unfortunate charges.

"HURRY UP THERE!"

"Hurry up there, you fellows," cried the militia, as the train stopped in the middle of the tall sand dunes that dot the prairie in the vicinity of the eastern part of Proverbs county, near the Kansas line.

"We haven't got time to waste out here," and no time was wasted. The special, which consisted of an engine, a combination baggage-car and smoker, and two day coaches, had no sooner come to a standstill than the doors were unlocked and thrown open and the order given by Lieut. Cole for the exiles to leave the train.

"STEP LIVELY, YOU FELLOWS."

"Step lively, you fellows, step lively!" admonished Deputy Benton, who was in command of the civil force of the expedition, and in less than three minutes all the exiles were on their feet, and were being loaded into the baggage-car and were started on their way back to La Junta.

DUMPED ON PRAIRIE.

The men were dumped on the cheerless prairie without food or water, for the soldiers and deputies, in their haste to get home, had forgotten to unload the small stock of commissary supplies, the train carried when it left Victor yesterday afternoon. The exiles were a cheerless lot, indeed.

Within a few miles and miles from the nearest habitation, they huddled together in groups on either side of the Santa Fe track and discussed their plight.

MEN'S SPIRIT BROKEN.

Warned to move eastward on pain of being re-arrested and severely handled, and notified by the Kansas authorities that they would be allowed to seek refuge in that state, the spirit of the men broke. Many of them walked back westward on the railroad to Holy, where the charitable inhabitants provided breakfast for them. Some of them later started to walk to Lamar, Colo.

MET BY SHERIFF.

A special from Coolidge, Kan., the first station east of the state line, says: Ninety-one miners were unloaded about three miles west of Coolidge at 4:30 this morning. They were accompanied by 55 militia men. Sheriff Jack Brady and 40 deputies of Hamilton county were at the state line to prevent the deported men from entering Kansas. When the train stopped, the militia lined up on each side, ordered the miners to keep walking up the track and then they were driven into the cars like cattle. They are expecting transportation from Denver so that they may return tonight. They seemed to be well supplied with money, and peacefully. Most of the men have families. They say that their wives and children wished to come with them, but the militia beat them off with their guns. The miners have said that there are to be more miners deported from Colorado to Coolidge. The sheriff has called on the governor of Kansas for protection.

TROOPS FIRE A VOLLEY.

La Junta, Colo., June 11.—A special from Holy, Colo., a town near the Kansas-Kansas boundary, says that the trainload of deported Cripple Creek miners stopped half a mile west of the state line and that the prisoners were unloaded from the cars and ordered by Col. L. W. Kennedy, the officer in command of the guard to "hike" to the east and remain outside the borders of this state. A volley of shots, it is said, was fired in the air by the troops, who later boarded the train and returned to the west. The deported men were not at the state line by Sheriff Jack Brady and 40 deputies of Hamilton county, Kansas, since early morning the troops and deputies have been struggling into Holy. There breakfast was furnished them by the residents. Many of them are now walking to Lamar, Colorado.

DESPORTED ON THE PRAIRIE.

Kansas City, June 11.—A special to the Star from Syracuse, Kansas, says: A special train carrying 70 deported miners from Victor, Colorado, in charge of 16 Colorado militia men, reached a road a few miles west of the Colorado state line today, and were deported upon the prairie, the train bearing the troops then returning westward. The deportees were left on the prairie to make their way east as best they could. At the point where they were set down, there is no eating house nor railway station, and the men were practically destitute.

Topeka, Kan., June 11.—General Passenger Agent Black, of the Santa Fe road, said at 11 o'clock today:

"We have just received a dispatch from Coolidge to the effect that our special train from Victor, Colo., containing deported miners, ran to the state line two miles west of Coolidge and unloaded the men. The train then departed for the west. Three of the miners went to Coolidge, the others passing over the state line afoot into Colorado."

Asked if there was any place where the miners could get food, Mr. Black replied:

"There is no eating house there, but I presume they can get plenty from the farm house. It was later learned that the miners who started west temporarily located at Holy, Colo., the big Salvation Army station."

GOV. BAILEY'S VIEWS.

St. Louis, June 11.—Gov. Willis J. Bailey, of Kansas, who is visiting the world's fair, said today in regard to the report that striking Colorado miners were to be deported into Kansas, that he knows nothing officially of the matter.

"You may say, however," continued the governor, "that if the miners are coming to Kansas as peaceful and law-abiding citizens, looking for employment, they will be made welcome. Should, on the other hand, a body of lawless men seek to invade Kansas, Kansas will take care of them. I believe that we are able to enforce the laws of our state, and if the occasion arises we will do so."

ABNER MCKINLEY DEAD.

He Was Found Sitting in His Chair Lifeless.

Somerset, Pa., June 11.—Abner McKinley, brother of the late president, was found dead in a chair at his home at 8 o'clock this morning. His death was not known to his family. His colored servant, who slept in his room, was up with him at 2 o'clock, and it was not known at what time Mr. McKinley got up again, as he did not wake him. Mrs. McKinley, who was found sitting in a chair cold and apparently dead. A physician was summoned, but his death had probably occurred two or three hours before.

ATTACKED BY HOODLUMS.

Stoned an Automobile and Dangerously Hurt a Lady in It.

New York, June 11.—From an ambush in the shrubbery along Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, a gang of hoodlums has attacked a passing automobile driven by Dr. H. L. Miller. The doctor's wife and Mrs. Gunderich, who occupied the seat at her side, were badly hurt and it is feared Mrs. Gunderich will not recover.

Stones, bricks and tin cans were showered on the party as they passed the ambush. Dr. Miller's arm was paralyzed by a blow, and the machine collided with a curb. Mrs. Gunderich was thrown into the driveway, adding to the hurts they had already sustained. Several firemen who happened nearby hastened to the rescue, but the hoodlums escaped.

Despite vigorous action by the police, attacks upon automobilists in various sections of the city are reported almost daily.

OIL FOR FUEL.

Freight Steamer Nebraska Used It From N. Y. to San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 11.—Nine thousand six hundred and thirty-four barrels of oil were consumed as fuel in bringing the freight steamer Nebraska to port from New York. The trip occupied 13 days and 10 hours. The oil-burning appliances were never out of order. This is looked upon as remarkable, in view of the fact that the voyage of the Nebraska is the longest ever made by a vessel dependent wholly upon oil fuel.

TRAIN ROBBERS SURROUNDED.

Sheriff Adams Says it Is Impossible for Them to Escape.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., June 11.—Sheriff Adams returned here late last night and reported that the Denver & Rio Grande train robbers were completely surrounded by a patrol of brush guards at the east side of the junction of Divide Creek and the Grand river. A posse of 100 deputies were picked about the place and he expressed the belief that it was impossible for the robbers to escape except by swimming the Grand river. At attempt to do that, he said, seemed almost certain death, as the river at that point is nearly half a mile wide and has a tremendous current.

The hunted men have not been able to obtain food anywhere during the past 36 hours and must be almost at the point of starvation.

Up to noon today the two bandits had not been found by the posse, numbering over 100, who are beating the brush in search of the fugitives. The thick undergrowth in the locality makes the pursuit dangerous.

Capit. Cawley, U. S. A. Suicides.

San Francisco, June 10.—Tired of army life and disappointed because his application for a discharge had been returned with a negative indorsement, Corp. W. H. Cawley of the Seventeenth coast artillery swallowed the contents of a vial of carbolic acid in the presence of his young wife today. Before a physician arrived he was dead.

British Sailors Entertained.

Shanghai, June 11, afternoon.—Twelve hundred men belonging to the British fleet lying at Wu Sung were entertained here today by the British community. After dinner at the town hall the men engaged at athletic sports on the race course. Tea was subsequently served to visitors on the grand stand. The weather during the day was perfect.

WANT TO EXHIBIT

BIG AND RAINSLI

PEACE COMING TO CRIPPLE CREEK

Provided General Bell Can Accomplish All That He Has Planned to Do.

WOMAN SIDE OF SITUATION.

Surest Ticket a Man Can Have for Deportation is a Wife With a Loose And Virulent Tongue.

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 11.—Peace is coming to Cripple Creek if Gen. Sherman M. Bell, military commander of Teller county, can accomplish all that he has planned to do. It will come through the forcible expulsion of all persons who owe allegiance to the Western Federation of Miners or the United Mine Owners' association, which are organized as the Cripple Creek District Mine Owners' association, require miners to surrender their cards as members of the Western Federation of Miners and take out cards from the Mine Owners' association, before giving them employment. Union miners who renounce their federation will be permitted to remain in the camp if they have satisfactory records.

MEN ASK FOR CARDS.

Several hundred men applied at the Mine Owners' headquarters for cards yesterday and today but few were issued, as the rule to investigate thoroughly the record of each applicant will be enforced. The mines are rapidly resuming work and by next Monday expected to be in full operation, employing only non-union men. No radical steps have yet been taken to enforce the agreement of the business men in general to employ no members of unions connected with the local Trades Assembly, the American Labor union or kindred organizations.

DEPUTIES REDUCED.

Order having been restored, Sheriff Edvard Bell today largely reduced his force of special deputies. Since the recent deportations following the hectic fighting between the miners and the local law enforcement, some men are being sent away only that their wives may follow them.

THE WOMAN SIDE.

The woman side of the situation has been one of the most troublesome to the military authorities and the citizens' committee. Non-union working-men have been accused to receiving insults and blows from women in sympathy with the strikers but none of these has been arrested or driven out. However, the surest ticket a man can have for deportation is a wife with a loose and virulent tongue. Some men are sent away only that their wives may follow them.

CONCERNING RESIGNATIONS.

The Citizens' committee has modified its plans in reference to securing resignations from county officials, some of whom fled from the district to avoid an interview with the committee.

UTAH SMELTERS WILL HAVE TO PAY FARMERS BIG MONEY.

That is Result of Judge Marshall's Opinion in Famous Smoke Nuisance Cases Reported in Last Night's Deseret News—May Have to Buy Land From the People Who Live in Vicinity.

The outcome of the long drawn out dispute between the farmers of the valley and the owners of the smelters as set forth in last evening's "News" has attracted attention among the farmers residing in the southern end of the Salt Lake valley. The controversy was settled by the opinion of Judge Marshall in the federal court in the case of David McCleery et al., against the Highland Bell, the plaintiffs seeking to compel the smelters to condemn and purchase all the farms that are alleged to be ruined by the fumes emitted by the smoke stacks of the smelters, or that a perpetual injunction be granted restraining them from operating the plants.

The firm of Pierce, Critchlow & Barrette, who represent a number of plaintiffs in the case, estimate that there will be 109 farmers interested in the opinion.

"The opinion means simply this," said Atty. Frank Pierce, "the smelter company will have to pay the farmers for the damage that has been done, and for all that may be done in the future. In other words, it is the nature of a condemnation suit, and amounts, practically, to buying the land within an extensive radius of the smelter, the value of the property, or the extent of the damage, past and future, to be estimated by a master in chancery, who will have to take evidence on the subject."

In his opinion Judge Marshall says: "In a state of society the rights of the individual must, to some extent, be sacrificed to the social body; but this does not warrant the forcible taking of property from a man of small means to give it to the wealthy man, on the ground that the public will be indirectly advantaged by the greater activity of the capitalist. Public policy, I think, is more concerned in the protection of individual rights than in the profits to inure to individuals by the invasion of those rights."

Commenting on the argument of the plaintiffs, the court finds:

"The injury so inflicted does not deprive the plaintiff's land of all value for farming, and, perhaps, does not extend to the entire tracks of land. The offer to submit to condemnation must then be considered as a consent that full damage for a perpetual easement to continue the discharge of fumes and the consequent damage to the land be assessed in one action in lieu of an injunction."

UTAH PEOPLE AT FAIR.

Nearly 400 Had Registered Early This Week in St. Louis.

District Passenger Agent E. Drake of the Rock Island who returned yesterday from a visit to the world's fair says that the Utah exhibit is attracting considerable attention especially the display in the Agricultural building. This, which takes the form of a panorama view of Utah valley, he says is one of the neatest things in the building. Over at the State building Utah visitors are being well looked after and received with open arms. Up to noon on June 6, Mr. Drake says that 396 visitors from Utah had registered, glanced over the papers on file from home and generally made themselves comfortable. He reports that one can live as cheaply in St. Louis right now as he can in Utah and none need pay more than $2 a day for a comfortable private room and fair board, providing they understand the conditions and are determined to economize. He also states that grafting, as operated at Chicago, is conspicuous by its absence. Now, he insists, is the time for Utah to show to the world that it is a place where a man can have a pleasant vacation in the east. The Rock Island which is running into the new Washburn station at the fair gates, is carrying a big percentage of the Utah visitors.

OUR COUNTRY'S FLAG.

Run up the flag on high! Its stars shall light the sky! Beneath it, stand! Let all its folds of light Proclaim from morn till night This is the flag of right.

And fatherland, From shore to mountain crag Let all salute the flag! That makes men free! Oh, may it ever wave Above the true and brave, A land without a slave From sea to sea!

Our country ever one As long as shines the sun, One flag we love— A flag the furthest tried, A flag for which men died, The Stars and Stripes our pride! Praise God above!

GREAT BALL GAME.

City and County Employees to Cross Bats Next Saturday.

There will be strenuous times in the sporting world in the next few weeks if the present plan under consideration is carried out. The preliminary steps have already been taken in the grand event and the challenge has gone forth from the employees of the Salt Lake city to the employees of Salt Lake county to cross bats on a local field to play for the championship of the city and county building. There has been much contention in the past few years as to whether or not there are any ball players employed by either the city or county and it is the intention of the employees to show the public that a number of those on the payroll can do something else besides draw their salaries.

The first game will be played on next Saturday, and it is the intention that, if there are any survivors of that game, to play two other games, the dates of which have not yet been fixed. Just where the games will be played has not been decided upon as yet, but the details, including the line-up of the two teams, will be announced in the near future.

Since being brought here he has received the most careful nursing and attention, but his condition was such that recovery was almost impossible.

The remains will be taken to American Fork, the former home of the deceased, where the funeral will be held on Monday, the 13th.

MUST TAKE A VACATION.

Connecticut Bank Association Will Insist on This.

New Haven, Conn., June 11.—Bank tellers, bookkeepers and clerks in this city have learned that hereafter not only will they be required to take an annual vacation but they must make use of the midday lunch hour privilege. It is said that the state bank association will also recommend that it is advisable that all banks observe this precaution.

These regulations have grown out of the recent charges against a teller in a local bank who confessed recently that he had embezzled $70,000 and covered the matter through remaining at his desk without a vacation for a number of years and never going out during business hours for lunch.
